Two prominent French home design brands MAISON LELEU & LELIÈVRE PARIS join forces to create the RÉTROSPECTIVE collection

Maison Leleu, a renowned design house since 1910, and the luxury fabric designer and manufacturer Lelièvre Paris — two prominent French family-owned and century-old interior design companies united by shared values and expertise — are proud to launch RÉTROSPECTIVE, a collection of contemporary fabrics and wallpapers based on iconic designs from Maison Leleu's archives and manufactured by Lelièvre Paris.

The natural bond that has brought the two brands together has produced a range of unique and timeless statement designs for the home.

Achieved through painstaking research by the two brands, the collection defies expectations with a variety of unexpected motifs and patterns (Art Déco, wild fauna and flora, 50s style, etc.). Retrospective includes a diverse choice of well-balanced textured fabrics available in a broad palette of subtle or assertive colours for the perfect match.

The colours and proportions of Maison Leleu's archive patterns have been entirely redesigned and reworked by Lelièvre Paris's in-house creative studio in collaboration with Maison Leleu. Guided by the expertise of Lelièvre Paris, the process involved meticulous research into the transposition and construction of archive patterns and careful consideration of material choices to give life to a large number of high-quality designs and ensure the collection's overall consistency.

The Retrospective collection consists of seven fabrics (four Jacquard weaves and three prints) available in several distinct colourways : one original, one neutral and a third one reflecting the two brands' bold creativity. Completing the collection are five perfectly coordinated wallpapers echoing the aesthetics of the fabrics.

The textiles and wallpapers that make up this collection are manufactured within Europe through local supply chains.

About

Maison Leleu brings together Art, Luxury and Artisananship.

Since 1910, Maison Leleu has lent its name to some of the greatest interior projects. The brand has been associated with iconic ocean liners — including the Normandie and the France — and has contributed to a number of high-profile projects for the Shah of Iran, the Emperor of Japan and President Eisenhower.

A rigorous selection of materials, uniquely distinctive designs and the traditional manufacturing techniques favoured by the company have allowed Maison Leleu's creations to endure and live through ages to be recognised today as works of art.

Since 2018, the Founder's great-granddaughter Alexia Leleu has been working passionately to rekindle the brand's inventive spirit. A leading set design specialist in France, Maison Leleu's services include the creation of bespoke furniture, lighting and rugs. Now Maison Leleu opens a new chapter in its history with the launch of the 'Rétrospective' collection featuring wallpapers and furniture textiles designed in collaboration with Maison Lelièvre.
